HARDY'S

In offering to the public at this time, HARDY'S GENUINE JAUNDICE BITTERS as a remedy for all Bilious complaints, so prevalent everywhere in the vernal season of the year, I do not present any new and untried article puffed up by persons who perhaps are not known to any one, but an old and tried article that has proved itself equal, if not superior, to any remedy of the kind, ever put into the market.

GENUINE

While I do not pretend to say they will cure all diseases human flesh is heir to, I do say they have been used for the last half century, and thoroughly tested by millions, and by those, too, of almost every nation on the globe, and in every variety of climate, and have proved themselves, beyond all question, unequaled by any medicine for all BILIOUS and JAUNDICE COMPLAINTS which are so common everywhere, and to prevent contracting infectious diseases peculiar to various climates.

JAUNDICE

These Bitters are not unpleasant to the taste, they are a moderate cathartic, cleanse the Stomach and Bowels of Phlegm and vitiated Bile, strengthen invigorate the coats of the Stomach, promote digestion, and restore the loss of appetite.

They are invaluable for travelers, seafaring persons, and those exposed to sudden changes of weather in warm climates; to the dyspeptic, and persons of sedentary habits. To such, they afford the most speedy relief when taken according to directions.

BITTERS.

Put up in Papers at 25 cents per package, and in large Bottles at 75 cents each.

RAILROAD

IS A FINISHED LINE

Running through one of the richest portions of Illinois, and connecting Chicago by the shortest route with the celebrated Block Coal fields of Indiana, and by way of Evansville and Nashville with the entire South. Its mortgage debt is $2,500,000, or about $18,000 to the mile. Although the road is but just opened, it is already earning, after all operating expenses are paid, on all its bonds. While railroad bonds may be plenty, those upon finished and paying lines and for so small a sum to the mile, are seldom in the market.

More than the Entire Interest

We do not hesitate to recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on the first of April, and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York.

We are selling them daily to the most careful investors.

A Paris shopkeeper lately fixed over his door a notice that his daughter had "made a splendid match," he would sell goods at a reduction of 25 per cent. for a week.

Stephen Pearl Andrews suggests that "the absolutoid elementisms of being echoes or reappears by analogy within the relatoid and concretoid elaborisms." Who would have thought it?

And now the State of Iowa, which voted down negro suffrage in 1857, sends a colored man, Alexander Clark of Massachusetts, as a delegate at large to the Philadelphia Convention.

Mr. Schurz is going to speak at Newark in aid of the buildings of a new German hospital. He is evidently looking out for a soft place to retire to after the Cincinnati Convention.—[Chicago Post

Thomas, said a father to his son, don't let that girl make a fool of you. Remember the adage, that "Love is blind." "Oh, talk about love's being blind," said Tom; "why I see ten times as much in that girl as you do."

A lady of a city sojourning among the religious notices that a certain clergyman would preach "D. V.," said at once that she would go and hear him, presuming as she did, that the subject of the discourse was "Dolly Vardens."

A bright little girl at Milton, Wisconsin, having been desired to write a sentence introducing the word "carrion," presented the following to her teacher: "Bad children often carrion in church when they ought to be quiet."

A kind old father-in-law wanted to know why the Fijians were called cannibals, to which Barnum replied: "Because they live off other people." "Then," replied he, unhappily, "my four son-in-law must be cannibals—they live off me."

A man out West turned State's evidence, and swore that he was a member of a gang of thieves. By-and-by they found the roll of actual members, and accused the man of swearing falsely. "I was a member," said the man, IF—happy thought—"I was an honorary member."

At a social party, where humorous definitions was one of the games of the evening, the question was put: "What is religion?" "Religion," replied one of the party, more famous as a man of business than a man of wit; "is an insurance against fire in the next world, for which honesty is the best policy."

Mr. Livingstone, an Indiana convict having a desire to regain his liberty, fastened himself in a box and was carried out of jail. Unluckily, however, the box was laid on the ground head-downward, and the convict's feet, instead of his head, pointed toward the zenith. Being unable to extricate himself, he began to howl for assistance, and was soon escorted to his former apartment.

SOWING DIFFERENT GRAINS TOGETHER.—The Toronto Globe says, of late years the attention of several experimental English agriculturists (as well as some Canadian) has been turned towards the possibility of increasing the yield per acre of various cereals, when sown together in the same field. There seems little doubt that a much larger yield can thus be obtained. Instances are quoted where peas, oats, barley and wheat, all sown together, have produced a very large yield.—This plan has especially been successful where various sorts of wheat alone have been sown together, or, as we should term it, a mixed sample of seed. One man mentions a yield of upwards of seventy bushels of this mixed seed (wheat) per acre, and this crop was composed of four different sorts of wheat. The theory is that the sorts are not subject to particular enemies, whether of season or insects; whilst others are not influenced by the same, at the same time, or escape altogether; so between the various chances which affect the different plants, a crop matures. Our improved fanning mills are now brought to such perfection that the separation of different grains is not difficult.

"Fooling with Lions" is the caption of an article in the Chicago Post, which borrows a recent tragic incident at a menagerie performance to point a political moral. The average "Liberal," it says, insists that the Democratic lion has had so many election-day lashings, so many annual proddings with the point of that mortal goad, the ballot, that it is helplessly comatose, if not dead, and so he thrusts his idiotic head into its red mouth every afternoon, just to demonstrate his mastery. The animal seldom puts forth muscular effort; but now and then, when his over-confident victim is trying fantastic experiments, it brings its jaws suddenly together, and that is the last of the "Liberal." Sooner or later, the Democratic lion eats up, head and heels, hat and boots, the gentlemen who quit the Republican party and try to exhibit the animal, and show that they have conquered him.

A diamond of considerable value was recently found in the gravel of a gold mine in Eldorado County, Cal., and occasioned much excitement.

TUESDAY, APRIL 16, 1872.

THE PRESS ON THE COALITION

As the meeting in New York on Friday night was intended as the formal inauguration of the bolting and coalition campaign, the opinions of the press concerning it are interesting, not so much on account of the importance of the meeting, as showing the estimation in which the movement it represented, is held. We have already given extracts from all the leading New York papers except the Post, which has since come to hand, and we copy a few sentences from that organ of the Free Traders who are supposed to hold the management of this project. The Post heads its report, "Reform or Revolt," and says that "nearly all existing parties were represented save the office-holders, strangely omitting, however, to state that all the gentlemen who have been "rotated" out of lucrative positions were prominent at the meeting from Grinnell and Palmer down to Blatchford and Mudgett. The Post praises the harmony exhibited, as showing the extent to which all parties were prepared to sacrifice "former prejudices in the pursuit of a common object," but what that "common object" is or is to be, was not clearly or satisfactorily indicated, if we may judge by the following editorial summing up, which must be highly pleasing to Horace Greeley, one of the aspirants for the honors of Cincinnati:—

As for the resolutions passed, their chief merit is their brevity; but a brevity which leaves many essential things unsaid, and says at least one needless thing. We look in vain for any frank denunciation of the mischievous abuses of the tariff, or of the franking privilege, or of the infamous Ku-Klux bill; while we find a recognition of the "one-term principle," as it is called, although it is no principle but a mere political "fetch." If the Liberal Republicans are to hold their breath in this way, let us say to them that they will not carry with them the masses, who like a bold, honest and untrammelled utterance of sentiments. Free soil, free speech and free men was the grand desire of the old Republican party, but that desire will be complete only when it comprises also "free labor and free trade."

The Boston Globe, through its independent "pebbles," clearly discerns the animus of the cabal and aptly describes it as follows:—

The Missouri-born Cincinnati Convention has cropped out as a sort of omnium gatherum, a goal towards which discontented, disappointed and uneasy men of all parties and of no party at all seem to be drifting. Mr. Greeley "lacks preferment;" he doesn't like the pill, but swallows the free trade globule as medicine. The Missouri and Southern Democrats generally know very well that they cannot stand for one moment against the Republican idea, so they join with the disaffected of all shades and all colors, hoping thus to swell the number of votes for their national candidate upon personal grounds.

The Boston Advertiser subjects Mr. Trumbull to a scathing castigation for his disingenuousness and inconsistency, reminding him that the reconstruction laws, of whose workings he now complains, were largely of his own making, and denouncing as a falsehood and an insult the Senator's assertion that the three million, more or less, of freemen who voted for Gen'l Grant in 1868, and who desire to vote for him again in 1872, are controlled by the will of the office-holders. As a fitting rebuke to such a libel it cites the Herald's report of the Cooper Institute meeting, which states that the "platform was altogether given over to old custom-house men and ex officials, doing nothing particular at present, but waiting for something to turn up in the good time coming after the Cincinnati Convention." The Advertiser's article cuts to the core of the situation, and we quote its concluding sentences:—

Mr. Trumbull's speech was an exaltation of principles which are attacked by persons who profess to stand where he does; a denunciation of practices which are common with those who are "going to Cincinnati;" a misrepresentation of the principles and practices of those who are steadfast in their devotion to the Republican party; an outcry against abuses which do not exist; an appeal to the people to renounce and dishonor an administration which has served the country honorably, faithfully, and with a reference to the popular will surpassed by no previous administration. Let those who will, follow the standard thus raised. The great body of the people will stand by their trusted servants. They care for none of the miserable quarrels of Senators. Their principles they know, and the path to victory they have often trodden. Not for the first time has there been treachery among them. Again, as heretofore, they will close up the ranks, and conscious of their own rectitude will follow their chosen leaders in the field of contest and victory.

A special to the Boston Globe says:—"After the close of the meeting at Cooper Institute, a caucus of leading members of the Liberal Republican party was held, and the prospects of the Cincinnati movement were very freely discussed. Schurz, Stevenson and Trumbull were present, and in conversation the belief was expressed that Charles Francis Adams would be nominated for the Presidency, and Gen. Hancock for the Vice-Presidency. It is said that the Democrats would promptly indorse the ticket, and the success of the candidates was believed to be placed almost beyond a doubt. It was also stated that Sumner would lend his influence to the movement at the proper time. At present it was decided best that he should occupy the background."

Hon. Gideon Welles, ex Secretary of the Navy, was examined on Saturday night before the Robeson Investigating Committee.—Those who have read his articles in the Galaxy will not be surprised to learn that he was not disposed to eulogize the transactions of the present administration, but his testimony was not important. He was subjected to a searching cross examination by Secretary Robeson, which brought out admissions that he had been corresponding with Dana of the Sun, on the subject. He said that he would not have paid the Secor claim, as he was of the opinion that Congress had provided for its settlement, but it appeared on his cross-examination that he had ordered the payment of several such claims.

A Washington special describes the Mrs. Mason, whose name has been connected with the sale of arms inquiry, as "a graceful, fascinating person, with dark, expressive eyes, and she talks 'like a book.' She has been in California, and during the rebellion she passed the lines several times in her zealous efforts to aid the South. Recently she has been intimately allied with the Cuban revolutionists, and has been prominent among the female lobbyists here."

The Cincinnati movement has not escaped that ominous infliction, the support of the "Blair family," for Montgomery writes with reference to being a delegate, that while there are several objections to this, one of which is that "I may be a member of the Democratic Convention," still:—

"Whether I am or not, I shall favor the support of the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, without regard to the individual nominated."

The memorial services in honor of the late Professor Morse will take place this evening in the Hall of the House of Representatives at Washington, and will be of a national and imposing character.

The Tichborne claimant obtained the £50,000 bail required, but the Judge refused to accept his bondsmen and the prisoner will remain in Newgate until his trial for perjury and forgery in June next.

The Boston Post, in an article on shipbuilding, calls attention to the reaction in favor of wooden vessels which has received additional stimulus by the recent heavy advance in the cost of manufacturing iron tonnage in England and Scotland. In this condition of things it sees our opportunity to do something for the restoration of our own shipbuilding industries, and squarely advocates the measures that have been so persistently urged by the Republican delegation from this State. If the Post will prevail upon the Democratic leaders in Congress to support the views it now upholds, and to cease threatening the overthrow of our registry laws, we may give our New England shipbuilders a fair trial of the measures which they declare to be all they need to enable them to compete successfully with foreign shipyards. The Post says:—

As long as nothing but iron ships would meet the demands of commerce, our New England builders were necessarily ruled out of the market, as they could not successfully compete with those of the Clyde. But now that this prejudice against wooden hulls is dying out, and iron has advanced to a point which renders its use in this branch of manufacture almost impracticable, a new and brighter prospect opens before them. Such a change can hardly fail to gradually transfer building operations from British to American ship-yards, since the advantages for turning out first-class, A1 wooden tonnage, both on the score of skill and materials, must always remain on the side of the latter. All that is now wanted to secure them orders, both at home and abroad, is for Congress to remit the taxes on such dutiable materials as enter into the composition of wooden vessels, their rigging and outfits. This done, and we shall witness the revival of an important but long-suppressed home industry all along our Atlantic sea-board.

A Washington despatch states that Messrs Pendleton and Hendricks have given written assurances to Mr. Belmont that if Judge Davis is nominated at Cincinnati they will see that the Democratic vote of the West is duly delivered over for him. On the other hand, Judge Woodward, of Pennsylvania has declared that he will not be thus transferred, and that he is confident that a large majority of Pennsylvania Democrats are of the same opinion.

THE TARIFF BILL. Perley of the Boston Journal says of the tariff bill: "There are many of its provisions which do not meet Mr. Dawes' approval, and which he will seek to amend as the bill is considered in the Committee of the Whole, but he will probably deem it the part of wisdom, both for the interests of the Republican party and of his own constituents, to retain the parliamentary control of the bill. Whatever may be the action of the House, it will be necessary for the Senate to concur, and the indications are that a bill resembling in its main features that already passed by the Senate will be finally agreed upon in a Committee of Conference. The sensational rumors that have been set afloat, that Speaker Blaine and Mr Dawes have been co-operating to prevent all action on the tariff at the present session are simply ridiculous. The forthcoming tariff bill will contain a provision for the relief of the shipping interest. This is the result of the movement set on foot some weeks since by Speaker Blaine. The provision embodied in the bill is not precisely the same as that presented by Messrs. Blaine, Hale and Lynch, but it is hoped that the Committee of the Whole will bring it into proper shape by amendment. The basis of the proposed relief is the bill of Mr. Hale, pending before the Committee of Ways and Means, and the bill of Mr. Lynch, pending before the Committee on Commerce, the best features of both bills being combined.

PATENT IMPROVED

ICE PRESERVER

This Preserver is made of felt, flannel, and other materials which are non-conductors of heat, and as to its durability, it will last during one's natural life with ordinary care.

There is not a question but what it will save from one-half to two-thirds the quantity of ice used in Hotels, Boarding-houses, and Hospitals, to say nothing about the great amount of travel saved by servants. One pitcher of ice each day for a boarder's room in the heat of summer is all that would be required if covered with this Preserver.

As a cover for a pitcher of cold water to preserve it in that state, and protect it from the dust and impurities in the atmosphere which water always takes up, it is worth double the money asked for them. Where water is obtained from cold springs in cases of sickness, with no ice, and it is desirable to keep it cool, this Preserver is invaluable.

Think of the value of it to a sick person longing for a drink of cold water during the hours of a hot summer night. The difference between an invalid reaching out of bed and taking a swallow of pure ice or cold water, or one from a pitcher of tepid water that has been taking up the poison in the atmosphere of a sick room for eight or ten hours, is not to be measured by dollars and cents by any one who values health or comfort.

Think of the luxury and comfort it would afford to thousands of factory girls in the heat of summer, where four girls working together could furnish themselves with one for less than one dollar each, and by placing it over a two quart pitcher of ice in the morning they would find it sufficient for the whole day.

If it were only to keep a pitcher of cold water free from the dust common to all cotton, woolen, and other factories, the price would be no object, especially if the health of the operatives was taken into account.

The value of this Patent Ice Preserver in the Southern States must be apparent to every one, where ice is frequently sold for six or eight cents per pound. It may work a little rough on the ice dealers but well with the consumers, as a person can take a common earthen two quart pitcher and put into it four or five pounds of ice, and place it under one of these Preservers and it will be from twenty-four to thirty hours before it all melts, with the thermometer from seventy-five to eighty-five above zero.

For the sake of introducing them extensively I have put the price as low as I can and leave a fair business profit.

It is all important that in placing the Ice Preserver over the pitcher that the bottom should rest fair on the table to exclude the air. They will be got up to order highly ornamented or in any way parties may desire.

The Flannel lining undergoes a chemical preparation which prevents it from being injured by the moisture.

Orders will be received for the Improved Patent Ice Preserver by the dozen, or for State, County or Town rights, by

"Manufacturing."

We have manufactured in this city for more than twenty five years, employing from thirty to seventy five men and women, making the very best work at as low prices as can be produced in any market. DAMAGES BY ICE.

FRESHET ON THE SEBASTICOOK—BRIDGES, MILLS AND DAMS SWEPT AWAY!

PORTLAND, April 15. A dispatch from Kendall's Mills states that the ice in the Sebasticook river started and carried away the dam just above the free bridge in Benton, and 150 feet of the dam occupied by Heath & Crosby's mill, carrying down a great number of logs and damaging mills. The central piers of both bridges were carried away, letting the spans drop into the river. The water is still rising, and fears are entertained for the safety of the railroad bridge at Winslow.

FROM BATH.

THE KENNEBEC RIVER.

BATH, April 15. The river at Bath is again clear of ice, and steamer Sassanoa commenced her regular trips to Boothbay, to-day. Last year the steamers on this route commenced running the 13th day of March. At that date the ice on the upper Kennebec was moving. There is now little prospect of its going out for a week or ten days.

FIRES.

The engine house and guano house belonging to the Atlantic Silver and Guano Co. at Spruce Point, Boothbay, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, together with their contents; insured.

A WOMAN POISONS HER WHOLE FAMILY!

Six Deaths in Four Years!

ARSENIC FOUND IN THE REMAINS!

THE FAMILY.

NEW YORK, April 14. A Leesburg, Va., special states that there is great excitement there, owing to the discovery of the poisoning of a family of six. The facts are as follows:—Four years ago Charles E. Lloyd, head of a family of six, consisting of his wife, Emily E. Lloyd, a member of the Episcopal church, four children, two boys and two girls, and an aunt, died very suddenly, but as he was an intemperate man no one thought that his death was strange.

THE SUDDEN DEATHS—SUSPICION AROUSED.

In the summer of 1870, the boys sickened and died suddenly and were followed at intervals by the aunt and the two remaining girls. The death of the last girl occurred March 23, when public suspicion became thoroughly awakened and a Coroner's jury was summoned.

TRACING THE POISON TO THE MOTHER.

The remains of the child were exhumed and the stomach sent to Professor Lowry at Baltimore to be examined. The search of the register of the druggist revealed the fact that quantities of arsenic had been sold to Mrs. Lloyd previous to the death of each victim.

ARSENIC DISCOVERED—A VERDICT AGAINST MRS. LLOYD.

Late Saturday Prof. Lowry announced that he discovered one and one-half grains of arsenic in the stomach of the deceased and the Coroner's jury immediately brought in a verdict against Mrs. Lloyd. Owing to the lateness of the hour Mrs. Lloyd was not arrested Saturday night but she will be taken into custody to-day.

THE ARMS INQUIRY.—MRS. MASON ON THE STAND.

Mrs. Mason testified before the Senate Arms Committee to-day, that she had applied to the Ordnance Bureau, and was told by Gen. Dyer that he saw no difficulty for the lady to buy arms, if able to pay. She had been advised by a friend that if she could make the purchases, she would make something handsome pecuniarily.

HER RELATIONS WITH THE BROKERS.

She testified to interviews with Peck, who was acting for Wiard, who was acting for McKenzie, who was acting for Gambetta. She told Peck that the Government required a certain per cent. in advance, a margin of 25 per cent. on all purchases, before the guns were delivered, and that Dyer would not give her the refusal of the guns, as he had to protect himself against street speculators. Met Wiard at the Hoffman House, where she told him that the money required by the Department must be put up, or she could not negotiate the sale, but the negotiation was not accomplished. Gen. Dyer treated her the same as any other trader.

NO ARMS BOUGHT BY HER INFLUENCE

Mrs. Mason further testified that she did not interview Ingalls and Dyer at the Hoffman House. One Ferrand was interested with her, and was to supply the money. In December, 1871, Dyer asked her who she was purchasing arms for. She replied, for McKenzie, who was Gambetta's agent; when Dyer responded that the Remingtons were the only agents for the French government. Was sorry to say that no arms were bought through her influence.

SOME CONTRADICTIONS.

General Dyer sent a note to the Committee denying that he had an interview at the Hoffman House with the Mason woman. Hon. H. A. Starkweather testified that he did not hear the Secretary of War say "I am the ordnance depot," as stated by Chambrun.

of the Ordnance Bureau, distinctly contradicted several statements of Chambrun, and witness testified that he had no knowledge or suspicion that the Gatling guns purchased by General Franklin were for Remington.

THE SUPREME COURT

—The flags of Post No. 12, G. A. R., the U. S. Custom House, Eagle Engine Co. No. 3, Union Hose Co., No. 1, and Champion Hook and Ladder Co, No. 2, were displayed at half mast yesterday out of respect to the the memory of Abraham Lincoln, who was assassinated seven years ago Sunday.

—A young man, named Cornelius Sullivan, residing with his father near High Head, had a sudden fit of insanity yesterday and attempted to assault several members of the family with an axe, failing in which he seized a stone and renewed the attack. Becoming so violent that it was hardly possible for two men to hold him, the police were sent for and took him to the lockup for the safety of himself and friends.

—Messrs. Blake & Tebbetts are putting up a steam-mill at Legrange for the manufacture of orange and lemon boxes for the Mediterranean market. Their machinery will be so arranged that a log after being steamed will be "unrolled" like a roll of paper into thin strips of a width equal to the length of the log, and then sawed into the desired sizes.—A large and powerful steam engine made in Boston for the firm, arrived in this city on the Maine Central freight train yesterday.

—Forty-three years ago to-day the First Baptist church in this city was dedicated Rev. Thos. B. Ripley, the first regularly settled pastor of the society, preached the dedication sermon from the text, I. Chron., XXIX: 3—"I have set my affection to the house of my God." Mr. Orrin Favor of Brewer commenced his services as Sexton of the church at the dedication, and has continued in the position to the present day, with the exception of about two years. We doubt if another Sexton can be found in Maine who has served so long.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. This rapidly-growing and popular secret society has now obtained a firm foothold in this State, having been first introduced by the organization of Mavoshen Lodge, No. 1, at Biddeford, a little more than a year ago, since which lodges have been organized at Lewiston, Portland and Saccarappa, (the latter having been formed last week,) all of which are very prosperous. We learn that application has been made for a charter for Norombega Lodge, No. 5, which will be instituted in this city next week, thus giving the requisite number of lodges for the formation of a Grand Lodge of Maine, which will make the 28th existing Grand Lodge of this Order.

FATAL TERMINATION OF AN ACCIDENT. A week or two since a young man named Fairbrother was coupling cars on the B. & P. Railroad at Guilford, when his elbow was caught between the "dead-woods" and terribly crushed. The fracture was a very bad one, and a council of physicians held on Saturday decided that the arm had mortified and that immediate amputation was the only chance the young man had for life, though exceedingly dangerous. The operation was consequently performed that day, and the arm removed at the shoulder. The patient did not rally from the operation, but sank rapidly, and yesterday morning died, at the age of seventeen years.

CALICO BALL. The Calico Ball, complimentary to Mr. M. H. Andrews, came off in Music Hall last evening, and was a very pleasant and successful affair, in which some sixty couples participated. The hall was neatly decorated with festoons of pink and white calico, extending from the centre of the ceiling to the rods in front of the galleries, and presented a very fine appearance. Most of the ladies were in calico, elaborately made up and trimmed, and very tasteful withal. The best of music was furnished by Andrews' full orchestra, and the floor managers, as per card of dances, were Messrs. E. E. Small, A. Emerson, J. M. Davis and W. Pierce.

THE ICE in the river seems firm as ever, though above here we learn that it has broken up from Veazie to Mount Hope, and the upper edge of the ice is gradually and slowly wearing and crumbling away at a rate which promises to give us open water ere many days. The Penobscot Lumbering Association, the Boom Company and the Railroad company have united in hiring the cutting a channel in the ice from Oldtown to "The Cook," seventy feet wide and a mile in length, which in case the ice takes a sudden start may save thousands of dollars worth of property.

Joe Sockabasin surveyed the river from the railroad bridge yesterday, and delivered the following opinion:—"Ice he very big, very strong. Sun he soak um two or tree days, bimeby souse [south] wind he come—ice all gone!" And we are inclined to Joe's opinion. No one seems to doubt that the river will be clear by the tenth of June.

VILLA & MINER. Villa and Miner's burlesque company opened their season in this city to a good-sized audience in Norombega Hall last evening, with the farce of "Family Jars" and the burlesque "Clorinda." The farce was very well done but does not call for special mention, as the strength of the troupe is in burlesque, and "Clorinda," which is "Cinderella" under another name, was put upon the stage better than anything of the sort we have seen here for a long time. Villa as "Clorinda" was gorgeous in make-up and acting, and his falsetto voice is rarely equalled. Miss Agnes Wallace as "Prince Poppetti" was brilliant and dashing, and Miss Aggie Wood as "Dandini," Minnie Florence as "Cinderella," and Miss Deshon as "Thisbe," were fully equal to the parts. Clarke, who is an old favorite here, was the recipient of much applause as the "Baron." The music was unusually good. To-night the company presents the farce of "Mr. and Mrs. Peter White" and the burlesque "Divorce"—the latter for first time in this city.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. The mixed train upon the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad met with quite a serious accident yesterday, in Orneville, about two miles about Lagrange. The frost coming out of the ground had brought an unequal pressure to bear upon the sleepers and it is likely that one or more were broken at the spot where the accident occurred. The engine and three freight cars ran over all right, but the last four cars, the baggage car and the passenger car on the rear of the train were thrown from the track while running at ordinary speed. Fortunately the damage was not nearly so great as might have been expected, as no one on the train, either passenger or employe, was injured. The running works of the cars were considerably smashed and some four hundred feet of the track torn up—there being but two or three sound sleepers left in that distance. Superintendent Eaton was on the train and went directly back to Oldtown, whence he sent up a wrecking train with the greatest dispatch. The track will be repaired, the wreck cleared and trains run on time to-day.

A NOVEL AND USEFUL INVENTION. We publish to-day the advertisement of a novel and most useful invention, patented by Col. James Dunning of this city, to be known as "Dunning's Ice Preserver," and intended for use as its name implies and also invaluable for all purposes of preserving the coolness and purity of drinking water. As will be seen by the cut accompanying the advertisement, the invention [illegible] [illegible] and hermetically seals the interior from the effects of the atmosphere. The materials are of felt and other non-conductors of heat, and by its use the evaporation and wasting away of ice and the consequent heating of the water, are practically obviated. In point of economy, the great saving in the consumption of ice, which would result from its use, would prove quite an important item in every household where that almost essential luxury is used, and especially in hotels and other establishments where large quantities are daily wasted; while to those who depend upon the coolness of spring water, this invention supplies the means of preserving the temperature and purity for hours beyond the time in which water exposed to the air would become unfit for use. In the hospital and the sick-chamber, and in fact in every sleeping apartment where pure water is required for drinking purposes, this invention will be appreciated, preserving nature's beverage, cool and free from all the impurities of a vitiated atmosphere. The inventor may reasonably expect a large demand for this article, especially throughout the Southern States, where the heated term is longer, if not more oppressive than with us.

We have tested one of the "Preservers" and are fully satisfied that it is all that the inventor claims, and should be unwilling to do without it. They are tastefully made and quite ornamental to the table or side-board. Twelve of them will be placed on practical exhibition and for sale to-day at Ricker's crockery store on Main street.

MILK MEASURE. Mr. Editor:—I noticed in your Daily of the 5th, in answer to the Mayor's request, the City Solicitor has given his views on the status of the law relating to the sale of milk. Assuming the Solicitor to be correct, it seems a pity that the law-makers did not give the number of cubic inches they wished their gallons to contain. The milkmen are indifferent as to the contents of the gallon; trade will regulate itself without extra legislation. We want system, so that the seller and purchaser may act understandingly. To measure milk in a half-peck measure is certainly a novelty. The people of East Bangor are building a cheese factory; they contemplate weighing their milk as in other factories. Will the law compel them to measure by the bushel? What we claim is that the law, under the Constitution, must provide for the protection of persons and property; that the Legislature has no right to take or render private property without paying damages. The cans used for the purpose of supplying the city with milk, cost some three thousand dollars, which, if we are compelled to sell milk by the bushel, will be worthless, and I consider it unjust and uncalled for to compel the milk producers to make that sacrifice of property where no one is to be benefitted, for if the consumer gets larger quarts he will have to pay a larger price. APRIL TERM.

APPLETON, Chief Justice, presiding.
EZRA C. BRETT, Esq., Clerk.

Monday, April 15, 1872. In the case of Peleg T. Jones vs. Ivory A. Hodgkins, which went to the jury at the hour of adjournment Saturday evening, the jury this morning rendered a verdict for defendant.

McCrillis. Brown & Simpson.

Franklin C. McPhetres vs. John W. Hodgkins.

Action of trespass quare clausum for turning cattle on to Plaintiff's meadow in Greenbush, in 1871, and eating up the grass. Plff. claims title to the grass thus eaten up by defendant's cattle, by sale from the town of Greenbush, to which the land had become forfeited for non-payment of taxes, and the town had taken possession of it and sold the grass stumpage for several years.

The defendant claims title to the meadow by virtue of twenty years open, adverse, and peaceable possession.

The jury rendered a verdict for defendant.

Bailey. J. H. Hilliard.

None of the opponents of President Grant contend that any recent act has incited their hostility; they rather assert the general unfitness of the man, demonstrated, as they claim, throughout his whole official tenure. In this view, it is interesting to note what Horace Greeley said in the Tribune, less than a year ago. Here is a sample:

"He (Mr. Greeley) deems it too soon by a year to discuss the claims or chances of Gen. Grant or any one else. So far as he can judge the Republicans are generally satisfied with Gen. Grant's Administration, and inclined to renew his lease of power. If there is not much enthusiasm in his behalf, there is a very general conviction that he is a safe and prudent Executive. Not hearing of any formidable or serious effort to prevent his renomination, it seems to us unwise in those who favor it to agitate the matter. The meeting of Congress next December is quite soon enough for that. Gen. Grant has been not quite two years in power. During those two years many war-clouds have loomed on the horizon, yet peace with foreign nations and with Indian tribes has been happily preserved. The taxes have been largely reduced, yet two hundred millions of the national debt have been paid off and cancelled, though we are paying one hundred and twenty millions per annum for interest and thirty millions per annum for pensions to the widows and orphans of our great struggle. We doubt whether any Government ever before devoted so large a proportion of its annual income to the payment of debt. He misunderstands human nature who fancies that these facts will not tell in a Presidential contest."

BIBLE MEETING AT ROME. The Italian correspondent of the London Daily News, writing under date of March 5, gives an account of the Inauguration Meeting of the Italian Bible Society at Rome. It took place in the Argentine Theatre, which was crowded to excess. The company consisted of a large number of Roman ladies, many members of Parliament, the President of the Italian Senate, Count Mamiana, the Grand Duke of Nassau and his suite, etc. The chair was occupied by Admiral Fishbourne. On the platform was Father Hyacinthe. Several speakers addressed the meeting, but Father Hyacinthe aroused the greatest enthusiasm. His speech was repeatedly interrupted by the loud cheering of the assembly. He said that in the Bible lies the real greatness of nations, and that England owed her power to it far more than to the Great Charter. Father Gavazzi spoke next, and declared that the Italian Bible Society had no other object in view but that of enlightening the Italian people. The meeting was remarkably successful.

The N. Y. Times has the following comments upon Mr. Trumbull's speech at Cooper Institute:

Mr. Trumbull undertook to portray the condition of the Southern States under Republican rule, and to attribute it to the imposition of political disabilities. He neglected to say that the policy of reconstruction, of which the imposition of political disabilities was an important part, was the work substantially of his own hands, and that in those days, when he was more anxious to defend than malign his party, he was one of the most eloquent advocates of this measure. He was bold enough, also, to suggest a comparison between the governments of the South and Tammany, but he prudently avoided any reference to the attitude of Tammany toward the "Liberal" Republican movement. He had a great deal to say about centralism, but he did not say what a Democratic Liberal-Republican Administration would do in the other direction, or how far the prophecy of Jeff. Davis in regard to the resurrection of the lost cause, in case of Democratic supremacy, would be verified.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

J. T. RINES & Co. will open New Spring Goods Wednesday morning, April 17th. apr 16 2t

I have examined ZELL'S ENCYCLOPEDIA with some care and must say that I regard it as a work of much merit. It is unusually comprehensive, and as a work of reference for everybody's table is not surpassed by any similar work of which I have any knowledge. N. WOODS.

By the use of Atwood's QUININE TONIC BITTERS, the whole system becomes restored to a healthy action. They are unequalled in their efficacy for the removal of stubborn cases of dyspepsia, colic, jaundice, nervous debility, loss of rest and appetite, and are the Spring medicine.

THE BLOCK COAL FIELDS OF INDIANA.—The block coal of Western Indiana is coming rapidly into notice, and the thorough tests applied to it prove it to be a most valuable fuel, in the manufacture of iron and Bessemer steel. It has excited notice among English iron-masters. It is said that, under their direction, already careful analyses of the coal have been made, and that the results are in a high degree satisfactory. Already capitalists, East and West, are moving in the matter of erecting works to make steel with this fuel. Several railways now converge on these rich coal fields, or cross them, to give access to market. Both the Terre Haute roads cross them, and other roads are being built to reach them. Within a few months the Logansport, Crawfordsville and Southwestern Railway has reached the block coal. Indeed it comes close to the bills in which is found a very superior bituminous coal, which is likely to be valuable for the manufacture of gas, as also for fuel; and twenty-five feet below this is the famous block coal stratum. The road which reaches these rich deposits has easy connections west, northwest, north, and east, and is already carrying the coal to market in considerable quantities. These coal mines and the sandstone quarries must prove the source of a large income to the road named. The papers of Indiana state that recently a company of scientific gentlemen, including the State Geologist Prof. Cox, Prof. Foster, of Chicago. Prof. Hovey, and Col. Carrington, of Wabash College, and others, visited these coal fields and sandstone quarries in Parke county, which are reached by the Logansport, Crawfordsville, and Southwestern Railway, and that they make a very favorable report as to the extent and the quality of both the coal and building stone. apr16 1t1&1tw16

IN EVERY QUARTER OF THE GLOBE where it is known, and there are few indeed where it is not, the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT takes precedence of all similar preparations. Its transcendant merits have obtained for it a popularity seldom reached by any proprietary medicine. In its infancy the fiat of its success was pronounced in the wide-spread endorsement which it received from physicians, veterinary surgeons, horsemen and the public generally. No one now thinks of questioning its claim to be considered the Standard Liniment of America.

HEART DISEASE. Palpitation, Feeble and Irregular Action of the Heart Cured by Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.—FREEPORT, DIGBY COUNTY, N. S., February, 10, 1869.—JAMES I. FELLOWS, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—Gratitude to you, and sympathy for the afflicted, induces me to send you a written statement of my case and cure effected by using your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

In April, 1868, I was attacked with palpitation of the Heart, I sent for the Doctor, and he said that nothing could be done for me and that I was liable to die very suddenly; being very weak and unable to leave my bed, I became discouraged.

After my physician gave me up, I was induced to use your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and the effect was wonderful. In two days I felt the benefit of it, and after taking half a bottle I was entirely free from the complaint, and to this day have not been troubled with a return of the Heart Disease.

Yours, very truly, SARAH LENT.

Haste, open window, open [illegible]
Quickly, oh quickly!
Old Winter seeks a passing out
He fidgets anxiously about
Goes round the house with bustling air
And picks his buds up here and there

Haste, open window, open [illegible]
Quickly, oh quickly!
He's spied young Spring before he [illegible]
He knows his madcap pranks [illegible]
To pull his ear were sport [illegible]
To pull his reverend beard [illegible]

Written for the Whig and Courier

MRS. BANTAM'S DREAM

BY MR [illegible]

"No 120? Whereabouts is that? In one of the side aisles, isn't it?"

"Yes."

Mr Bantam looked as though he [illegible] apprehensive of a coming storm, nevertheless he bore himself manfully as he added in an explanatory tone "It's on the left side, about half way up,— the Browns sat there last year. It isn't just what I [illegible]"

"I shan't sit there."

And the speaker elevated [illegible] with an air of dignified displeasure [illegible] contrast rather oddly with her dumpy [illegible] and the round, rosy face set atop like [illegible] its head on a gipsy pincushion

"Come, come, Kitty! don't be unreasonable. I did the best I could, but they run the choice money up so high that I couldn't afford to take the pew that we had last year and so I took the next best [illegible] came within my means."

"I afford a decent pew in [illegible] church [illegible] went at all," was the sharp retort, "and I must say, Bantam, that considering how I've been obliged to economize during the whole of my married life I do think you needn't grudge me my church privileges."

"Nonsense! How like a [illegible] you [illegible] What wonderful difference will it make whether we sit in a thirty or [illegible] pew, so long as both are the [illegible] one is quite as comfortable as the other."

"What difference!" echoed Mrs Bantam now fairly aroused, "to have [illegible] and the Highflyers, and [illegible] Dor[illegible] crowing over us because we can't [illegible] have as good a pew as they do. Oh! [illegible] do think it's the meanest thing that [illegible] knew you to do, and— [illegible]"

The last words were spoken in a [illegible] undertone that naturally exasperated [illegible] fault-finding party, and lent a decided [illegible] to the tone in which he retorted.

"I don't want to hear any more [illegible] talk, and [illegible] that's more [illegible] encouragement to world [illegible] the support of my family when [illegible] think I get for it."

To this outburst Mrs Bantam [illegible] put in. She was quick witted enough [illegible] that she had made a grand mistake [illegible] mode of attack, and after several [illegible] applications of her handkerchief [illegible] she surprised her moody spouse [illegible] a gently argumentative tone

"After all my dear, it is not [illegible] ourselves to keep up appearances [illegible] will certainly add to your credit [illegible] people the impression that your [illegible] good enough to warrant a [illegible] this as in other things."

Mr Bantam smiled grimly [illegible] sent on in a half-soliloquizing [illegible]

"And there's economy [illegible] near the fashionable part of the [illegible] needn't laugh, Bantam) a [illegible] prove it you. Last fall I thought [illegible] get Maria a new suit, for her [illegible] looks so shabby with its old fashioned trimming that she wouldn't wear it [illegible] thinking about it who should I see [illegible] in the Highflyers pew but that Miss Larkin from New York and the minute I put my two eyes on her dress the thought flashed across my mind 'I'll trim Maria's pop[illegible] that and it'll be just as good as new.' So I studied on the trimming and the cut of the overskirt whenever she stood up, and that very week I cut over Maria's dress and trimmed it after that same pattern [illegible] she wore it for her best all winter.

"I didn't know that you went to church expressly to study the fashions for [illegible] that case I perfectly agree with you as to the desirability of a good position for a lookout."

"How can you be so harsh?"

Mrs Bantam spoke with a plaintive chirp that touched her husband's conscience a little perhaps.

"O well well,— I don't care how much you look at the dresses so long as it pleases you but really when we come to the question of economy, I must object somewhat to your position. Do you remember [illegible] your argument in favor of the new [illegible] summer was that the old one looked so shabby by the side of Mrs Sherman's suit, that you was ashamed to be seen at church with [illegible] and the velvet cloak and new set of furs became absolute necessities for the same reason. I quote your own words."

Mrs Bantam colored a little while she fidgetted nervously with the [illegible] scarlet wool with which she was crocheting the baby's sock. "I'm sure," she said at last, with an attempt to regain her old position, "I don't ask you to do anything extravagant and I'm perfectly willing that you should take my Dividend money to make up [illegible] cost of a better pew."

Her husband laughed outright.

"That 'Dividend money' [illegible] like the widow's cruise in your [illegible] for you haven't proposed anything that [illegible] was needed, for the last ten years, from [illegible] her boots for the baby to new [illegible] carpets for the parlors, that you [illegible] to defray the expenses [illegible] that ten dollars a year."

Mrs B acknowledged the [illegible] with a little ful smile

"Well," she said, nervously [illegible] with a look of touching resignation [illegible] contemplated the now finished sock, "it's no use to talk about it I suppose. I should like, for our children's sake to make a respectable appearance, but if you don't choose to allow your family the advantages that other men do, I can't help it."

And with this parting shot the aggrieved lady laid aside her work and without another word or look even at the wretch who sat toasting his stubborn heels over the register betook herself to bed and to sleep

And sleeping she dreamed.

She was dead. How, where and when she had died she neither knew nor cared for. Strangely enough her old life with all its loves and hates its joys and sorrows seemed to have fallen from her as completely as if it had never been, while the new world into which she was born, with its hopes, aims, and fashions engrossed every thought.

There were angel forms around her forms that while entirely free from every trace of earthly grossness had yet enough of the human in look and manner to prevent that feeling of strangerhood that will creep into the purest human heart when contemplating these unseen mysterious beings as the strange nondescript creatures that painter and poet have pictured from the earliest ages.

Life and death were behind her, nevermore to be encountered, and now standing within the walls of the Celestial City, a sudden eager irrepressible longing came over her to draw nearer to that gracious, glorious Presence that sitting upon the 'great white throne' filled with the light of His countenance this city of the saints and drew as by invisible cords all hearts to Him as their centre and resting place.

Pressing forward through the shining throng, she found herself face to face with [illegible] grand and mighty presence the [illegible] she tremblingly thought, as she noted [illegible] he held in his hand that the exiled Apostle saw in his prophetic vision, and—

Perhaps it was the bedstead that creaked, or the window sash rattled by a stray breeze, —at any rate the earthy became suddenly entangled in her web of Heavenly fantasy, and [illegible] herself startled and disappointed [illegible] commonplace address of the clerkly [illegible]

"What seat would you prefer, madam?"

[illegible] that unspeakable longing convulsed her soul and she cried imploringly

"Close, close to the Throne! I would die a hundred deaths to kneel but for one moment at its foot."

The angel shook his radiant head with a sadly doubtful smile.

"I'm afraid you won't be able to bid high enough to secure one of them."

"Are they so very expensive then?"

"Their price is greater than all the riches of the world, thrice told—the God like virtues of a blameless life."

"What virtue ranks highest here?"

"CHARITY."

At the word certain vague but pleasant remembrances of contributions for the benefit of various charitable institutions that she had attended when upon earth floated across [illegible] and her whole being was thrilled with love and longing as she watched the glorious legions that thronged between her and her heart's desire, but the angels' next words, spoken as if in answer to her unspoken thought, dispelled the hope that had awakened but a moment before

"Charity envieth not, charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

[illegible] not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil." Lo, this priceless virtue yours to [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] a moment from the multitude [illegible] rose, loud, sweet and [illegible] of mingled love and triumph [illegible] melody the new [illegible] that no mortal ear may hear, awakening responsive echoes in her own heart, and prompting her to further effort

"But the next,—what are they?"

"Humility, Temperance."

The poor trembling [illegible] caught at the last [illegible]

"I have always [illegible] ate,' she said [illegible]

"What?" asked the angel with a pitying [illegible] food and drink? yes? In dress, [illegible] in speech, and in the desire [illegible] honors and riches?"

She shook her head too conscience stricken [illegible] hardened to speak, while bending [illegible] the pitying angel gently said

"[illegible], in spite of its outer crust of selfishness and worldliness your life has not been [illegible] The loving All Father [illegible] feeble on the part [illegible] children to do his will, and your maternal devotion, prudence, and kindly hospitality are a [illegible] your favor and will secure [illegible] a place among the first to be sure [illegible]

"[illegible] Kitty do get up. The baby is crying [illegible] house afire for you to take him, [illegible] fretting because he can't find a [illegible] wish you would see [illegible] put in their proper places."

[illegible] Bantam who was jogging the crib with [illegible] hand while he stirred up the contents of [illegible] bureau drawer with the other, in search of [illegible] handkerchief, spoke rather impatiently [illegible] his wife, after a moment of natural bewilderment at her sudden awakening, replied with a patient forbearance unusual in her

"I [illegible] myself but I will attend to [illegible] wants in a moment."

And as the days and weeks passed away a gradual but real change came over the daily life of the wife and mother, a change that was silently felt and acknowledged by every member of the household

No harsh irritable words, no petty tyranny [illegible] natured and uncharitable comments [illegible] the words and actions of neighbors [illegible] acquaintances. Patience, meekness, [illegible] charity were the watchwords with me making her life fairer, day by day

"[illegible] proposed changing pews with me [illegible]" remarked Mr Bantam one evening [illegible] he sat in dressing-gown and slippers, in his [illegible] cheerful sitting room. "He says he [illegible] quite as lief have a seat in the side aisle [illegible]"

"[illegible]"

Mr Bantam was astonished

"Why I thought you didn't feel at all satisfied [illegible]," he said with a curious look at [illegible] wife's placid face

"I am perfectly satisfied. Taking everything into consideration I believe I'd rather [illegible] more conspicuous one."

[illegible] she was evidently sincere, and after watching her furtively for several moments, Mr Bantam [illegible] with an impetuous disregard [illegible] masculine dignity and reserve

"[illegible] what [illegible] all this mean? You haven't spoken a cross word to me, or before me for an age. You don't find fault with any [illegible] anybody lately, and I'll be hanged if I know what to make it."

He paused, very red and out of breath, while Mrs Kitty, half laughing, but with her brown eyes brimming, answered with a mistiness that would have done credit to the sphinx as an oracle

"I'm only trying to save up enough choice money to secure me a good seat above"

Mr Bantam looked mystified and it may [illegible] a little shocked at his wife's strange irreverence

"I don't understand you," he said gravely

"I suppose not, but the truth is I learned a lesson that night after the sale of pews in [illegible] church—not from you," (Mrs Bantam [illegible] quite an angel yet, and Bantam's [illegible] of triumphant remembrance was provoking) "but from a dream that I had."

Which dream she proceeded to relate, quietly oblivious of her listener's look of unconcealed amusement or the irreverent comment with which he greeted its conclusion

"You don't play that game on me little woman. Come own up now, that you made up every word of that story yourself."

But Mrs Bantam answered him never a word.

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties with no dangerous ingredients. A remedy at hand for the many pains and wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect but always relieving pain however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years with great success.

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are Chilblains, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores, Felons, Pimples, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Barber's Itch, Deafness, Boils, Ring worms, Corns, Bites of Insects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Swollen Breasts, Itch, Scald Head, Teething, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children.

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied. Rub it on well with the hand three times a day. In several cases it has cured palsied limbs. For Piles it has been discovered to be a sure remedy. Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications. For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately. Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It is good in cases of Scrofula and Tumors. Cancers have been cured with it. The best Salve ever invented for Swollen Breast and Sore Nipples. No way injurious, but sure to afford relief. Sore or Weak Eyes—Rub it on the lids gently once or twice a day. Cures deafness by putting in the ears on a piece of cotton. For Felons this is superior to anything known. For Pimples this acts like a charm. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief. For Old Sores apply once a day.

Among the host of the invaluable properties of MISS SAWYER'S SALVE are its beneficial effects on the hair. Rubbed on the scalp in five or six different parts it promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it turning gray, and on bald spots it produces a new growth of hair. No lady should be without it as it is a valuable article as an indispensable cosmetic for the toilet. It eradicates dandruff and [illegible] from the head, and blotches and pimples from the face.

From Mrs ELIZABETH COOMBS, Brunswick.

Brunswick April 4 1867

Miss SAWYER: I received your letter last evening and was very glad you concluded to let me take your Salve. I think I can do well with it and it will be quite an accommodation to my husband, as he cannot get along without it. He has tried everything else and has never found anything that helped his leg as that Salve of yours, and we have found it to be all and even more than you recommend it to be. We have had it in the family five or six years, and have used it for everything, and can truly say we have never found its equal. I use it for a weak back and it acts like a charm. Mr Coombs has had a Fever Sore on his leg for thirty years and would be a cripple to day if he had not found a remedy in your Salve. It keeps it healed and takes out the inflammation, proud flesh and swelling and does for him all that he can ask. I can recommend it for a good many things that you have not for I use it for everything. I consider it invaluable in a family. If you can put this testimony together and it can be of any service to you you are welcome.

Yours, &c, ELIZABETH COOMBS

Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Greig Lewis County, New York

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock, Spruce Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers own two large tanneries, located on the aforesaid tract which will consume the hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access being only from six to fifteen miles from both the Black River R R and Black River Canal, which lead direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers is a fall of sixty (60) feet, over which the waters of both rivers flow, thus forming an unlimited water power, (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot,) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate or the timber alone permitted.

The President of the United States of America and His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway, led by the wish to regulate the citizenship of those persons who emigrate from the United States of America to Sweden and Norway and their dependencies and territories and from Sweden and Norway to the United States of America, have resolved to treat on this subject and have for that purpose appointed Plenipotentiaries to conclude a convention that is to say The President of the United States of America, Joseph J Bartlett Minister Resident, and His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway, Count Charles Wachtmeister, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, who have agreed to and signed the following articles

ART I

Citizens of the United States of America who have resided in Sweden or Norway for a continuous period of at least five years, and during such residence have become and are lawfully recognized as citizens of Sweden or Norway, shall be held by the government of the United States to be Swedish or Norwegian citizens, and shall be treated as such

CONVENTION Between the United States of America and the United States of Mexico. Extension of the duration of the Joint Commission for the Settlement of Claims Signed April 19 1871, Ratified December 15, 1871 Exchanged February 8, 1872 Proclaimed February 8 1872

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas a Convention between the United States of America and the United States of Mexico was concluded and signed by their respective plenipotentiaries, at the city of Mexico, on the nineteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy one, for extending the time limited by the convention between the two countries of the 4th of July, 1868, for the termination of the proceedings of the joint commission provided for by the latter instrument, which convention, being in the English and Spanish languages, is, word for word, as follows,

Whereas a convention was concluded on the 4th day of July, 1868, between the United States of America and the United States of Mexico, for the settlement of outstanding claims that have originated since the signing of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo on the 2d of February, 1848, by a mixed commission limited to endure for two years and six months from the day of the first meeting of the commissioners, and whereas doubts have arisen as to the practicability of the business of the said commission being concluded within the period assigned

The President of the United States of America and the President of the United States of Mexico are desirous that the time originally fixed for the duration of the said commission should be extended, and to this end have named plenipotentiaries to agree upon the best mode of effecting this object, that is to say The President of the United States of America, Thomas H. Nelson, accredited as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Mexican Republic, and the President of the United States of Mexico, Manuel Azpiroz, Chief Clerk and in charge of the Ministry of Foreign Relations of the United States of Mexico, who, after having presented their respective powers, and finding them sufficient and in due form, have agreed upon the following articles

ARTICLE I

The high contracting parties agree that the term assigned in the convention of the 4th of July, 1868, above referred to, for the duration of the said commission, shall be extended for a time not exceeding one year from the day when the functions of the said commission would terminate according to the convention referred to, or for a shorter time if it should be deemed sufficient by the commissioners, or the umpire, in case of their disagreement

It is agreed that nothing contained in this article shall in any wise alter or extend the time originally fixed in the said convention for the presentation of claims to the mixed commission

ARTICLE II

The present convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington, as soon as possible

In witness whereof the above-mentioned plenipotentiaries have signed the same and affixed their respective seals
